

Nav Raatri April 2016 Day 7

My dear and respected Devotees Jai Mata Ki. Today is the seventh night of Vasaantik or Chaitra Nav Raatri dedicated to Kaal Raatri, the seventh incarnation of Mother Durga

Kaal Raatri means the one who is the Death of “ Kaaal” –that is to time and death. This aspect of Mother Durga is also known as Shubhankari

Kaal Ratri is the one who destroys ignorance and darkness.

This form primarily shows that life has a darkside

In this form Goddess Kaal Raatri slayed Raktabeej, a demon, who could multiply with every drop of its blood that fell on the ground.

The Goddess Kaal Raatri killed him by ensuring no blood every reached the ground.

The Goddess Kaal Raatri has a dark complexion with bountiful dark, scattered, long hair and four hands with one holding a cleaver, the other a torch, one has the Mudra of giving and the other has the Mudra of Protection.

Her Necklace is bright and shining and She has three eyes that emanates rays of lighting while flames come from her nose when She inhales and exhales.

Her Vehicle is a donkey and her colours are Blue, Red and white and on this day these are the colours her devotees will wear.

As fierce as she is The Goddess Kaal Raatri is never to be feared as she always gives protection to her devotees and on this day Yogis and sadhaks especially worship her for their protection and because on this day the doors open for the siddhis to be granted and for ghosts to run away.

Complete Faith, restraint and concentration is a necessity when worshipping The Goddess Kaal Raatri and all fears go away

She is seen with Human Skulls around her neck and sitting on a dead body depicting that she conquers death and protects her devotees from all kinds of negative forces from inside and outside

This is the Mantra for Goddess Kaal Raatri so repeat 3 times

Ek Veni Jaapa Karna poor nagana Kharaa Stithaa

Lamboste Karnikaa Karne Taila Bhyaktya Shareerinee

May the all-powerful Mother Kaal Ratri bless us all and take away our fears while protecting us

Thank you Jai Mata DI.
